With Pakistan on the doorstep, our embassy staff in this country will be busy covering the opening ceremony of the cricket World Cup on 30th July. But aside from the cricket, there are many reasons to be proud of Pakistan. Thousands of people from this country travel to China every year to view the famous Muslim tombs. In any event, the British government has decided to commemorate the centenary of Pakistan's independence by opening its embassy in Islamabad. British Secretary of State, Sajid Javid, is to make a joint statement with Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi at the annual Raisina Dialogue and will be addressed by the visiting US Secretary of State, Rex Tillerson, and the European Union High Representative, Federica Mogherini. Javid believes this occasion is unique as he would never have visited Pakistan in the past as
